To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter regarding my review of plans of the Daddy Rabbit drawn by Ed Hartley, dated 01/18/92 revision 1.4. I find only one exception to the accuracy of these plans. This is the use of plug in wings. However, the wing configuration is accurate. Mr. Mickey Walker of Smyrna Georgia has said plug in wings are OK provided the airplane design is of the proper era.

I have reviewed these plans in detail. With this one exception, I want to verify these plans represent a detailed accurate representation of one of my Daddy Rabbit versions constructed by me prior to 1969.

Sincerely,

Jim Whitley
